Dear Collector

Let me begin this preview of our stamp offerings for 2021 by wishing you a Happy New Year.

I want to thank you for your continued support and loyalty during the past year, which was a challenging time for all concerned, due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

I am delighted to announce that we have a very exciting range of new stamps to be issued during the year ahead. Our first quarter offering previewed in this newsletter features four diverse topics that, we are confident, will appeal to a wide audience.

One of the highlights of our programme each year is our annual 'Love' stamp, which is due for issue on January 28, 2021. Last year's stamp proved to be highly popular. Consequently, we decided to build upon and adapt its design to create another attractive offering for 2021 that should have wide appeal for wedding invitations and many other personal greetings.

Turn to Page 8 to find out more about the Love stamp, including details of how you can add that extra sparkle to your envelope greeting when using the stamp!

A week earlier, on January 21, we will unveil a special stamp to mark the centenary of the birth of the world-renowned Irish artist, Patrick Scott. Born in Kilbrittain, County Cork, Scott's artistic career took off when he won a National Prize at the Guggenheim International Award and represented Ireland at the Venice Biennale.

What makes this stamp extra special is that the design features one of Scott's iconic paintings, thus enabling people to possess and appreciate a tiny item of high-quality artwork. Find out more about this aspect and the achievements of Scott, who died in 2014, on Page 6.

We mark a highly significant milestone in Irish church-state relationships on January 7 when we issue a special stamp recalling the disestablishment of the Church of Ireland 150 years ago.

The Irish Church Act, introduced by the Liberal Prime Minister, William Gladstone, came into effect on January 1, 1871. It resulted in the dissolving of the union between Church and State in Ireland that had existed since the 16th century Reformation.

Turn to Page 5 to read about the significance of this event and the artistic work in a Cork Church of Ireland Cathedral that underpins the stamp design.

Our fourth offering for Q1, 2021 celebrates one word that, in many ways, epitomises our unique national characteristic. In a continuation of our 'Stamp for Ireland' series, we focus on a design that centres on the Gaelic word, 'Fáilte' or 'Welcome' in English.

Using this stamp to communicate with people abroad during the coming year will serve to further enhance our global reputation as a welcoming nation. Turn to Page 10 to find out more about how the 'Fáilte' stamp, to be issued on February 18, can embellish such communications.

Finally, we look forward to maintaining and developing close contact with stamp collectors and other customers as we begin a New Year of hope and promise for our nation.

Disestablishment of the Church of Ireland

DISESTABLISHMENT OF THE CHURCH OF IRELAND
FDC Code 2101FDC Price €2.50

January 1, 2021 marks the 150th anniversary of the disestablishment of the Church of Ireland, resulting in the dissolving of the union between Church and State in Ireland that had existed since the 16th century Reformation. We mark this important milestone by issuing a special stamp on January 7.

The disestablishment removed the status of a state church in Ireland. Previously, the laws of the Established Church were the laws of the land and imposed by the courts. In the 17th and early 18th centuries, Roman Catholics and Dissenters were subjected to stringent Penal Laws that barred them from political life and restricted religious practice. However, they were compelled to pay tithes, a tax to support the ministry of the Established Church.

The Irish Church Act, introduced by the Liberal Prime Minister, William Gladstone, received Royal assent on July 26, 1869, and came into effect on January 1, 1871.

Did you know?

The census returns in 1861 (which were destroyed shortly after being taken) strengthened the move towards disestablishment. They confirmed that the Established Church comprised only 12% of the population and did not constitute a majority in a single Irish county.

DISESTABLISHMENT OF THE CHURCH OF IRELAND
'N' RATE STAMP Code 2101N Price €1.00

The disestablishment of the Church of Ireland led to its transition from being a privileged minority to being a confident and influential minority down through the years.

The stamp design is based on the sun, moon and stars panel from what the experts describe as 'the Creation wheel window' in The Cathedral of Saint Fin Barre in Cork, with the kind permission of the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral.

The watercolour paintings in the Cathedral's 74 windows feature the work of William Burges, who was awarded first prize in the architectural competition to rebuild St Fin Barre's cathedral in Cork in 1863, and Horatio Walter Lonsdale.

Centenary of the birth of Patrick Scott, HRHA

PATRICK SCOTT, HRHA (B.1921)
SOUVENIR SHEET Code 2102MS Price €7.00

A special treat awaits stamp collectors and lovers of art when we issue a stamp on January 21 to mark the centenary of the birth of noted Irish artist, Patrick Scott. The stamp honours the distinguished career of the Kilbrittain, County Cork-born artist, whose works have been exhibited worldwide and feature in many public and private collections.

While honouring the stellar career of Scott, the stamp also affords people a rare opportunity to possess small items of high-quality artwork, as the design features two of his distinctive works.

The 'Meditation Painting 28' on the stamp encourages the viewer to contemplate the link between the physical and metaphysical world. The medium used by Scott for this painting was gold leaf and acrylic on unprimed canvas. He also used this technique in creating the second painting,

'Gold Painting 21c. 1975', which is included in the Souvenir sheet accompanying the stamp.

Be sure not to miss out on this very special opportunity to possess and admire the brilliant creations of one of Ireland's greatest artists.

Scott is recognised as one of the first exponents of pure abstraction in Irish art and a significant contributor to the development of modernist design in Ireland.

An honorary member of the Royal Hibernian Academy of Art and elected a Saoi of Aosdána in 2007, Patrick Scott died in Dublin in 2014 (aged 93) and donated his body to science.

Did you know?

Patrick Scott originally trained as an architect, studying architecture at University College Dublin before going on to work with the architect, Michael Scott in 1945. He painted in his spare time up to 1960, when he focused fully on his artistic work, having won a National Prize at the Guggenheim International Award and represented Ireland at the Venice Biennale.

Love

Stamp enthusiasts and the general public can look forward with eager anticipation to our 2021 issue of the highly popular Love and Marriage Stamp on January 28 that contains a number of attractive features. This is the ideal accompaniment to adorn wedding stationery posted in Ireland, while the versatile stamp is also suitable for other greeting cards such as Valentine's Day and birthday cards during the year.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE

STRIP OF 2 Code 2103SAS Price €2.00

The design for the 2021 stamp was strongly influenced by that used for this year's stamp, because the latter was so well received as a message of love on personal post at a time when people experienced the effects of Covid-19.

The design features a graphic of the word 'Love' with a Love Hearts Sweet superimposed as the letter 'O'. To give it a distinctive Irish identity, the word 'GRÁ', meaning 'LOVE', in Irish, is written on the sweet.

Look out for another appealing aspect to the new stamp - a small heart shaped sticker is included in a decorative sparkle foil with the stamp booklet. This can be lifted out and stuck to the outer envelope to create a more unique look.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE

FDC Code 2103FDC Price €2.50

LOVE AND MARRIAGE
BOOKLET Code 2103BK Price €10.00

Did you know?

'GRÁ' in Irish is a very popular word used by people to address someone that means a lot to them, which highlights the romantic nature of the Gaelic language. The first records of the language being used can be dated back to when Ogham inscriptions were carved into standing stones around 400 AD. Examples of how 'GRÁ' is used include phrases like 'Mo Ghrá Thú' ('You are My Love') and 'A Ghrá mo Chroí' ('My Heart's Beloved') or 'The Love of my Heart'.

Stamp for Ireland

STAMP FOR IRELAND

'W' RATE STAMP Code 2104W Price €1.70

What better way for Irish people to send greetings or communications to family, friends or business contacts abroad than to use our 'Stamp for Ireland' offering for 2021?

Due for issue on February 18, the stamp features a graphic that focuses on the Gaelic word 'Fáilte' or 'Welcome' in English, together with numbers that relate to the famous Gaelic saying, 'Céad Míle Fáilte'. The latter translates as 'one hundred thousand welcomes', which is a greeting that reflects Ireland's global reputation as a nation that extends a warm welcome to tourists, businesspeople and other international travellers.

Recipients of your correspondence will get an instant indication of its origins from the 'Fáilte' stamp that adorns the envelope. Why not consider also using this evocative greeting in the lead up to our national holiday? It would embellish all Saint Patrick's Day greetings and be a nice way to stay in touch, while 'sending love' from Ireland around the world in these uncertain times.

Did you know?

The earliest use of the greeting, 'Céad Míle Fáilte', is reputedly attributed to an Irish-born novelist and socialite, Lady Sydney Morgan, (ca 1780-86 - 1859). Raised in Dublin, she was the daughter of celebrated Irish actor and nationalist, Robert Owenson, and Jane Hill from Shropshire. As a successful Anglo-Irish romantic writer, she fostered ethnic pride in Irish culture.
